

Tuck Chiropractic Clinic: Fellowship Doctor

Seeking Chiropractors to Join Our Group:

Tuck Chiropractic Clinic is setting a new standard in patient-focused chiropractic care in Virginia. We want to help our patients feel better and to live with less pain! We are seeking a full time Doctor of Chiropractic for a fellowship position. Our clinics are in long-standing locations, with an established patient base in the local community.

Position Summary:

The foremost responsibility of a Fellow is to master all fundamentals necessary for the day-to-day operations of our clinics. This will involve working in conjunction with local clinical staff to provide high-quality patient care. The Fellow will begin to learn the requirements of leading a successful practice as defined by Patient Experience, Clinical Care Delivery and Outcomes, and Financial Sustainability.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities:

- Learn skills for measuring success through Patient Experience, Clinical Care Delivery and Outcomes, and Financial Sustainability.
- Provide excellent patient care that is both effective and efficient.
- Improve clinical skills through hands-on care delivery, including adjustments, leveraging therapies, and working with other caregivers in the community.
- Learn patient care management including efficiencies and meaningful patient conversations
- Utilize correct coding for diagnosis and services performed in the clinic.
- Understand new patient paperwork, scheduling patients, and collecting funds.
- Learn scheduling, billing, and electronic health records in the Eclipse system.
- Work on putting patients on therapy.
- Work with the Vice President of Clinical Development on coverage work as needed to keep all clinics appropriately staffed with providers.

Educational and Experience Requirements:

- Doctor of Chiropractic degree from an Accredited Chiropractic Program
- Licensed and in good standing with the State of Virginia Board of Medicine.
- Prefer some demonstrated leadership/managerial positions.
